

NOTES:

I suppose what happened in the garden could be summed up as “Two trees in the garden”, “Twisted truth”, “Mistaken interpretation”, “Assumed conclusion”, “Capitulation”.

The terms Christ and Christianity are used to illustrate rather than convince. The values of these terms are ingrained and natural and are not indicative of a certain system of worship and are not meant to be. Sadly, in this system these terms have achieved alternate meanings different than the original Greek. “Christian wars do not exist. Economic wars parading as religious wars do.”

Holiness always seems to be an issue with orthodox religions. Holiness is not mandated in a relationship with Christ, it's the result of this relationship. Adam and Eve were at the beginning holy but lost this when they rejected God's leading. What is holiness? Theologians have detailed every aspect of holiness down to the color of shoes you wear. What you eat, and so on. Doing this they miss the true aspect of holiness.

To understand one must go beyond the earth, beyond the sun, moon, stars, even to the edge of the universe as it is and peer beyond creation to understand a fraction of what God is doing on the earth. It goes beyond the earth. It goes to the basis of the universe and all of God's creation. Basic tenets do not describe or adequately describe what creation is founded on. You have to go beyond basic to basis to describe creation. One must peer into nana technology, into atomic structure, at neutrons and electrons, at what holds it all together, at the spoken word, into the sun, moon, and stars, into the makeup of light itself, into color, sound, feel, emotions, to gather enough data to begin to understand enough to ask questions about the universe and it's foundations. What happened in the Garden in Eden was a portion of creation. Creation wasn't finished with earth; it just is another portion of God's creation of the universe. How long will it take? There is no time with God. That does not mean that God isn't subject to time it means that time relates to the earth and not the universe. Look beyond self. Peer into the vision of God. Lift your eyes. Feel His vision. Now, you've stepped into creation. Congratulations, you've joined the ranks of the great thinkers. Understand that the problem with most revelators is: they reject a previous error only to embrace another or embrace a truth only to reject another.”

Space is not emptiness. Even though space appears as a complete vacuum, it has substance. Stars are not hung in nothingness. The thinkers call this the ETHER.

Think for a moment about sound. Sound uses the media of air for the waves of vibration to travel on. Radio waves are not subject to the limitation of air. Electromagnetic waves use a media called ether in which to travel. To the minds of today, ether has not yet been defined beyond the level of media. It's known to be a substance of creation but how to peer into its creation is beyond discovery.

Think!

There are sixty-six octaves in the electromagnetic spectrum and only one octave is visible light. There are three primary colors and any other color is a blend of these three. The exception to this is black which reflects none of these three primary colors. All of our visible creation is based on these colors. Color without light is no color at all. Light is required to give substance to color. Our eyes are equipped with receptors that are tuned to these three primary frequencies of this reflected electromagnetic waves. Light hits a surface that reflects certain amounts of these three and absorbs certain amounts of the same three colors. White reflects all three while black simply reflects none.

John 8:12 Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life.

A born blind has no concept of light or color. We who see can only speculate how he perceives creation and this perception would be erroneous because we've seen creation.

(John 9:40) And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also?

(John 9:41) Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

If this religious group had seen the light of creation they would realize that they had been blind but because they would not see they were blind and their sin (rejection of God's leading) remained because of their refusal.

Light brings creation and vision. Now you can see all of God's creation and life is born within you by this light.

It is time to put in writing the pattern of events from the beginning until the present. The question in you mind is, what makes your version different from the others? The answer to that question is simple and can be answered in one word: nothing. All that can be said is to read and see and maybe it's different.

The greatest fault is to assume that the reader can see and understand what is being spoken. Perhaps the reader is lost by so much detail.

Think of time and Scripture this way; as a series of events from creation to the final judgment centered only around the events leading up to and after the birth of Christ. Realize that all events not containing something or someone pertaining to or leading up to Christ is not included in the Scripture. Verses of Scripture such as Gen 1:1 in the beginning God created the heaven and the earth; May contain millions or billions of years, as we know them. These could well be the events leading up to Gen 1:2 and the earth was without form, and void; and darkness upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. The missing ages are not explained nor detailed in the Scripture. Where Adam's son's got their wives, and so on are not there either. Let me ask you though; how long have you lived on the face of the earth and how many changes to the world and the city in which you live. What has happened to the USA in one hundred years? How many children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren can you have in your short lifetime?

Many questions come to mind when you pick up a trilobite fossil from the white rock in your driveway. Or when you visit the Grand Canyon and see how the layers and rock colors make up the canyon. The painted desert, petrified wood, limestone, coal, ad infinitum. What happened to the Garden of Eden? To Dinosaurs and pterodactyls, Lucy and Ape Man, the ice age, and where fossils came from all remain a question in the minds of the individual and Christianity. When asked where all this fits in; most respond with a shrug of the shoulders.”

Think of John 3:16 as the pivotal scripture of the Bible. All events are centered on the birth of Christ. What exactly happened at the birth? Why is this event so important? Oh we know all the normal answers, the Christmas nativity scenes, the crucifixion, and the resurrection. Until recently it wasn't evident just what had actually happened? Maybe it's like a child that discovers snow for the first time. For me it's new but maybe you already knew. I didn't but I think I do now and that is what I am writing about. I've isolated from the books and writings of others. I did so with the idea of a fresh view. It has produced an unquenchable desire to learn.

So with dinosaurs and fossils aside, they cannot be denied, and because I am writing about Christianity, which naturally centers on Christ, and about how you fit into this overall pattern and plan, I will write as directed.

Psa 45:1 --- My heart is inditing a good matter: I speak of the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue the pen of a ready writer.

What went on in the Heavens that caused God to cast Lucifer out? Why would God even bother with an angel that He had created out of Himself?

Why didn't He just un-create Lucifer?

Lucifer is extremely important in both understanding and development of the logic here. Who is Lucifer? Where did he come from? What was (is) his function? All these answers are in the Bible.

There are references to three angels that stand in the presence of God: Gabriel, Michael, and Lucifer. Each one of these three has a specific function and Lucifer's function was worship Ezk 28:13. He was created perfect but inequity was found in him. It is important to understand the difference between the desires of this human body and the desires of the spirit within man to shed light on what was found in Lucifer. Separate the two sets of desires. The spirit of man desires high and noble goals than the flesh of man. The flesh of man desires to please it's self. It has five senses that give it pleasure. Touch, smell, sight, hearing, and taste, all which interface with the earth that we live on. Let's call them base units of sense. The spirit of man interfaces with God and the spirit world around us. The senses of the spirit are undefined but are intuitively understood within the spirit of man and are limited only by the lack of faith or experimentation. Faith could be defined as man's inability to walk on water and yet do it. Of knowing that we are a spirit creature housed in the flesh called man and controlling each situation from that aspect rather than letting the situation control man as the senses of man often do. High and noble rather than base units of sense. (Core values if you please rather than situational ethics.) The results of following the dictates of the senses of the body of man result in such things as: sexual immorality, impurity, promiscuity, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, rivalry, jealousy, outbursts of anger, quarrels, conflicts, factions, envy, murder, drunkenness, wild partying, and things like that. Each of these fulfills the desires of the flesh fulfilling and pleasing to the eyes, to the flesh, and stroke the pride of man. Following the high and noble values of the spirit results in; love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. There is no law against such things and results in quietness within. As you can see here that one destroys and the other builds. The iniquity found within Lucifer is pride and he will do anything to fulfill that desire. Isa 14:13 For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High.

Lucifer never spoke these words but established his priority in his heart.

“I will set upon the mount of the congregation”, means that he will establish that he is a god and set up that he is worshiped for it. The mount of the congregation is where places of worship were set up. Going up to the high places is the term used to describe worship.

“In the sides of the north”, describes the place of darkness and a place of termination as you may travel north until you reach there then south. It is a place that has an end (finite).

“I will exalt my throne above the stars of God” is done through the five senses and pride usurping God's guidance..

The stars of God are explained in Revelations 1:20 The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

“I will be like the most High”, he did not say he would overthrow the most High but that he would be like the most High in that man would worship him.

“I will ascend above the heights of the clouds: I will be like the most High.” His territory will be Earth’s entire atmosphere.

It is his purpose and place to keep the spirit man from worshiping the Creator through the flesh (physical man and it’s desires to please the five senses). There are three primary areas, desire of the flesh, desire of what the eyes see, and the desire to be accepted. The terms used in Christianity are: the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life. Jesus Christ was tempted in all the ways that a man can be tempted in. Understand that there are many subcategories to the three main primaries.

Heb 4:15 For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

Knowing in our mind that God is logical helps to define the purpose of each portion of His creation. God desires a creation that has his attributes. All of creation does what God has created them for. He feeds, cloths, directs, warms, cleans and gives them all they need. Trees grow, fish swim, birds fly and so on.

Creation.

Think of creation this way; You’re in a room by yourself. The room is you. All that is in this room is you. You take a piece of this self and create something from yourself, out of yourself, by yourself, in yourself and call it the universe.

This perspective is flawed by infinity. Infinity is undefined in the human mind because of an inability to comprehend. All human terminology deals with the finite. All human reasoning deals with the finite. Descriptions of eternity usually are such finite terms as the steel ball and bird analogy where the bird flies past the steel earth and brushes it with its wings and when the ball has worn down one sixteenth of an inch, eternity has just began. Flawed in that, eternity has neither beginning nor ending. Time cannot define eternity because eternity has no time because time is finite.

It was in an environment such as this that God created the universe and all that is in it.

If I travel to the edge of our universe and look as it were over the edge, I will find God and creation. Creation itself tells me that there is no emptiness in God. Look over the edge of our universe and you will see creation. It’s as though you stand on the top of a mountain and see nothing but more mountains that were hidden from your view by the valley you live in.

If I travel to the center of the universe, I will find God; Psa 139:7-8 Whither shall I go from thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.

Notices in these scriptures the translators have added “art” and “art there”, which are finite terms. Removing them from reading makes more sense in the infinite. This is in harmony with Exo 3:14 And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you.

I AM meaning the ever-present one that, as far as time is concerned, has no beginning or ending. This is the infinite way of describing God. There is no other way of describing God in finite terms. He simply is.

He is the voice of creation.

Voice is the building block of all creation. Ayn Rand wrote a book called; “THE FOUNTAINHEAD.” The basic tenant of this book is that man’s ego is the fountainhead of all of his creation. Using this somewhat distorted view of humanity, let’s say the rather than his ego, it’s the creativity endowed by God himself. This creativity always begins with a thought. This thought lays dormant in the incubator of our minds until it takes form with the voice of creation speaking, “I will”. It starts with a thought, grows into a plan, then a desire, then to reality. Man can think all he wants, but until he puts it into action with his will it is not yet created. (We will explain the difference between mind and heart, and what Jesus spoke of, later).

The questions of Why God created, what all creation is made out of, where creation is, who are we, were we apes, monkeys, slime, worms, amphibians, one celled creatures, or special creation are all questions that the answers do not seem to appear in this age. The Bible and nature do not seem to answer these questions. The known universe appears to be in continual creation. There is a continual birthing, collapsing and exploding of stars. The known universe is full of creation. Why was Lucifer cast out? I can only speculate the event in the plan of God, and I shall not. Suffice it to say that we can only assume that this occurred sometime before Gen 1:2 and the earth was without form, and void; and darkness upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

Again; accounting for pre historic creation, I can only speculate how many times the earth was void of life. To Adam and Eve the command was: Gen 1:28 --- Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it-----

To Noah and the sons of Noah it was: Gen 9:1 ----Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.

John on the Isle of Patmos said; Rev 21:1 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea

And he was speaking in a future tense.

Will there be another time when the earth will be void and without form?

2Pe 3:7 But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

I look at these verses of Scripture and try to draw a conclusion. Sadly, my search is limited. Perhaps it shall be clearer in future days.

What is man and creation without light? The man born blind has never seen creation, knows no colors, seen a sunrise or sunset, peered at the beauty of mountains, seen a beautiful sight. He has no concept of shape, form, function, and color. No concept of distance other than steps taken. Only knows the texture of silk by feel and not sheen. Has no concept of a football game, basketball, and drag racing, Daytona and on and on. He cannot drive, has never seen a car, he's like a person talking on a cell phone, to him there is no creation beyond sound and feeling. Close your eyes and read this sentence. Tell me if you can what color is it? Impossible you say. Then you are blind.

Light gives creation. Without light no sight. All the things we see are a reflection of light. Color is a reflection of the frequencies reflected. Black is no color reflection at all. White is an equal reflection of these three primary colors.

There are sixty-six known octaves in the electromagnetic spectrum. Some are radio waves, some are television waves, some are sound waves and one octave is visible light. Only one out of sixty-six. Ultraviolet to infrared, invisible to invisible: Blue, yellow and red. All visible colors are composed of different levels of these three frequencies.

Light is a very important feature of creation. Without light you are as a blind man.

What did Lucifer bring to the population of earth?

Man is created with individuality. Born within man are spirit, heart, and soul. Man consists of a set of rules defined within his heart. It is the sum essence of what he is, thinks, and allows coming to fruition. A man is not necessarily remembered for what he looks like but what he is. I used the word IS rather than the pass tense WAS because you will remember a person as you last experienced him. That is what he is, your last experience. A thousand good experiences can be tainted or enhanced by the final one.

It is not the mind of man that guides the ship through the rough waters of life, It is what he is, his heart. This is the essence of a man. The soul of man abides within his heart and is the guide that maintains equilibrium in his heart decisions. The mind of man adds to this equation and strikes an additional balance. Life decisions are complex at the least and often times never reached. The person becomes a ship without a rudder to the wills and circumstances of others allowing them to make the decisions of life for them, never giving an opinion or resistance of any kind, becoming victims of circumstances due to their own lack of decision.

All this explanation was necessary to give insight into the mind of Adam and Eve and what Lucifer's position is.

Adam was created in the likeness of God. I do not think that this refers to a physical image. God is not a physical image. More on this when we reach Jesus.

Joh 4:24 God a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and in truth. (I have removed the italic is as it was added to help the translator adapt his understanding to the word.

Adam is created containing creative abilities. Created with the ability to choose. Created with emotions. Created with God's attributes. Created with God's spiritual image. Do what you want to with the pluralities that generate argument. All this was housed in the flesh that God formed from the elements of the earth. (Dust of the ground if you please.) Into this body composed of the elements of the earth, and I quote from Dr. "Ed Uthman's web page at; <http://web2.airmail.net/uthman/index.html>

Elemental Composition of the Human Body

Ed Uthman, MD

Diplomat, American Board of Pathology

Posted St. Valentine's Day, 2000

The table below gives the amount of each chemical element found in the human body, from most to least abundant. For each element, there is the amount in mass units in an average (70-kilogram) person, the volume of the element, and the length of the side of a cube that would contain that amount of the pure element. Volumes of solid and liquid elements are based on density at or near room temperature (where available). For the gaseous elements (oxygen, hydrogen, nitrogen, chlorine, and fluorine), I chose to use the density of each in the liquid state at the respective boiling point.

Raw data from which this table was made are from Emsley, John, The Elements, 3rd ed., Clarendon Press, Oxford, 1998. This is a great trove of information, which I highly recommend for anyone wishing to learn more about the elements.

Notes

Oxygen is the most abundant element in the earth's crust and in the body. The body's 43 kilograms of oxygen is found mostly as a component of water, which makes up 70% of total body weight. Oxygen is also an integral component of all proteins, nucleic acids (DNA and RNA), carbohydrates, and fats.

Rubidium is the most abundant element in the body (0.68 g) that has no known biological role (silicon, which is slightly more abundant, may or may not have a metabolic function).

Vanadium is the body's least abundant element (0.11 mg) that has a known biologic role, followed by cobalt (3 mg), the latter being a constituent of vitamin B₁₂.

The last of the body's elements to be discovered was fluorine, by Moissan in 1886.

[\[To Ed Uthman's Home Page\]](#)

Into this body was placed the spirit of life, the intangible force that gives this elemental body more than existence. What is this Spirit of Life? This substance that has no form yet gives man more than form. The limits of this thing called; "The Spirit of Life," is far beyond my comprehension. I know it exists. I've been in the room when a person dies and felt life leave them. There was a very noticeable difference in the elemental body at the very moment of passing.

Is the body what we are? Is the spirit of Life what a man is? Is it this the soul of man? The spirit, soul, and body form what man is. His actions, his thoughts, where he walks, what and how he talks, how he entertains, what he laughs at, what he does, what he is, and what he accepts. One said, "A man is what he eats." Another said, "A man is what he reads." Another said, "A man is what he laughs at." And another said, "A man is what he is when no one else is around."

A man is what he allows in his life and what he gives life to.

Adam's body was formed out of the elemental earth as a vessel for the soul.

Adam walked with God. Adam's trust of God was complete. Distrust was totally unknown to him. He was clothed with innocence. This innocence was Adam's garment of righteousness, the righteousness of God. Adam did not have to decide what to do he simply followed the leading of God and could, at this time, do no wrong as God is truth and all that Adam gave substance to was truth. There are few absolutes left in this society, as we know it. It is a generation with half-truths, partial truths, half lies, partial lies and so on. Truth is like the sun that is overhead on a summer day. Where is the darkness then? There are no shades of gray in God. There were no shades of gray in Adam. Adam was as innocent as a little child. This innocence was Adam's righteousness in his relationship with God. It was not self-righteousness but the righteousness of innocence. Perhaps this too is the definition of perfect love and in perfect love there is no fear.

A Definitive View of the Creation Week

Creation week could possibly include the time from the Quaternary Period to the Paleozoic Period ending with the beginning of the seventh day and lasting some 570 million of our years. Some things in life are undeniable and the fact of fossils and the such like are just that. You cannot turn your head on evidence such as glacial plains, Grand Canyons, petrified wood and fossils. You must have an explanation in your own mind as to how this all occurred. Don't you?

Setting aside such arguments as "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness," and go directly to the point. "And let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat.

And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein life, every green herb for meat: and it was so. "

Man was created in the image of God. As God does not have a physical image, being a Spirit, it is safe to say Adam's physical appearance was not indicative of God's physical being. At this time setting aside the argument of the physical form of Jesus Christ unless you want to get into preexistence. Adam had dominion over every creature of the earth. He and Eve were to multiply and replenish the earth, to subdue and have dominion. It is notable and important to note that Adam and all animals were herbaceous. Carnivore in this age was nonexistent. The earth was planned to feed mankind and animals. Food consisted of fruit, vegetables, grains, grasses, roots and the such like. Death was an unknown factor in Adam's existence be it death of old age or as food, or by accident. Adam and Eve were designed to live forever. Could the earth contain the amount of offspring that would be generated by them? I don't know, evidentially. I'll leave the mathematicians to decide how many people an earth as plush as the Garden in Eden could sustain. Who knows what limits were placed on Adam and Eve the Bible only lists one. Why one? Was it to give them a choice? Can faith be proven without choice? Does faith need to be proven? No. Who then would a man prove his faith to? To himself.

It is notable that God formed man toward the end of the sixth day and that on the Seventh day he rested. Creation was complete. Adam was to enjoy creation and not modify it to his own liking. The first day that Adam lived was with God in rest. Again, creation was complete. God supplied everything. Just as the birds are supplied with seed, just as squirrels are supplied with nuts, just as bees are supplied with pollen, just as fish have enough to eat, God supplied all. Adam's function was to enjoy God and His creation, be fruitful and multiply, dress the garden with their presence. And out of the ground made the LORD God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil. Please keep in mind there also was a tree called the tree of life.

Adam was provided with everything that he could ever think to ask for. Actually it wasn't an issue in his mind because he was to rely on God to provide and what God provided would be fine with Adam. Desire and greed come from making ones own decisions. What I want to show here is where today's Christian (Israel God governed) can live and how that Jesus Christ provided this for us. This is not some Jack and the Bean Stalk fairy tale that was thought up in the mind of some man, this is fact and was and is provide for us by Jesus Christ.

Those who turned Christians back to a mixture of Judaism and Christianity stole this from us in the first century. The reestablishment of the law, the bringing in of "Some day Jesus is coming back and will set up a new kingdom where in dwelleth righteousness" Stealing away the truth that he has come back, and he has established this kingdom, and we are to live in this kingdom as Adam was in the garden at first. We are kings and priest. We do have dominion. Where then came all these regulations governing how a Christian in the local church is supposed to live? From the Priesthood of Jesus' day. Remember where the priesthood of the day got together and decided that Jesus must die because they were about to loose their position and finances? Joh 11:47-50 Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles. If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation.

And one of them, named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

The priesthood knew very well who Jesus is and also what he was doing. If they allowed him to continue the priesthood would no longer be necessary and they would have to find new jobs because they would have lost their influence over the people. Jesus set up a new nation, a new kingdom with a people loyal beyond what Caesar could ever hope for. Lucifer was behind all this idea of destroying Jesus before he could establish his kingdom not realizing that Jesus had to die to fulfill the Law given by God to Moses and by this death establish a whole new nation of people called Israel (God governed). . It seems that in each "religion there is a measure of truth" yet none carry the fullness of Christianity. Today's organized Christian religions are a combination of what Jesus taught and Judaism. Today's leaders (preachers) set themselves in the position of the Priesthood. I think that it will become evident where the law, judges, presidents, nations and kings all came from. These are all necessary; for the law is a thing that keeps men from evil works. We will see where such things as our monetary system's roots originated, why it is necessary, and who is in control of it. This is not a war between God and Lucifer because Lucifer is a created being and as such the Creator can abort His creation any time He wishes. There is a much deeper purpose and meaning here than is readily apparent. Adam's Kingdom was the earth, the sea, and the heavens around the earth. He was to take dominion over all these areas. His function was set to promote the fruit of the Spirit, which promotes pure love, and following love comes joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, and temperance.

Let me inject that every creature on the earth is spirit directed. Each does have it's own mind and can move according to this mind but guidance is given by the spirit to the spirit of life within this creature. Spirit unto spirit and flesh unto flesh. By directing all the earth with the Spirit of God, all creatures would coexist without conflicts. The Lion would not eat the lamb and so on. And I repeat; All creatures were herbaceous and ate what God provided from the earth. Imagine a world where man could walk among lions. Where bears were as teddy bears. Where Eagles didn't eat rabbits and man walked in peace with each other. Wars and rumors of wars were unheard. Death simply did not exist.

The world could not contain that many people. You say. Go to NASA earth and see the Earth at night. Population is defined to very limited areas. Look at the regions that produce crops and the regions that are desert and none productive. Imagine a world that is the Garden in Eden. The earth still would not be crowded. Since the projected beginning of time, estimates show that 96,100,000,000 people have lived on the earth. Earth's dry land mass is currently about 57,511,026 square miles, or about 29.2 % of its total surface.

Do the math, 96 trillion people fitting on 57 million square miles and this is only 29% of the earth's total area. Currently that would be area 128 feet wide by 128 feet long which is 16384 square feet. Crowded earth on 29%? If all the world were a paradise, Ideal, rainless, livable mass without mountains, oceans, rivers, lakes. If all were productive as in the beginning, earth would not even be close to crowded.

If I can explain what Adam had, the place he lived in with God, his relationship with God, the utopian environment, his mind set, no need for continual reassurance, this being unknown to the innocent mind, his not knowing hate; caused by lack of judgment and the need to cover it up with emotion. "You hurt me therefore I hate you." Actually Hate did not exist in Adam's life until death reigned. Have you ever felt the pure love that flows from innocence? Look into the eyes of a small child before he experiences hate. What do you see there? Purity. "- Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. " While we are on this point; currently there are two realms, the kingdom of earth and the surrounding atmosphere, and the kingdom of the heaven. That is heaven and not universe. The universe could be finite but the kingdom of heaven is infinite. How do I know that? I suppose that it's an assumption or it could be intuitive. I really can't put my hand on it right now.

I want to show you how to live in the Garden in Eden. Who stands at the eastern gate, the quiet mind that comes from living there, the never-ending supplying of you needs. To do this, one must bypass all that has been taught by conventional Christianity from the second century to today. Actually, from the birth of Christ until today; powers have water down, distorted and misrepresented Christianity. The Levitical priesthood was shown to be pure in origination. The second generation of the priesthood was a place of control and power.

And I reiterate: This place of control and power was the cause of The Christ being crucified. Look in John where Caiaphas said, "If we leave him thus alone, all will believe on him: "The priesthood knew that this is the Christ and how it would affect their position" and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation." The Levitical Priesthood was the controlling factor of the Jewish nation thus the people (Nation) belonged to the priest. The Romans realized that to control the people they must work directly with the priesthood. Religion is about control while Christianity is about Christ. This was also a very prosperous position as the tithe and offerings became under the control of the priesthood. Can you see a parallel here? The control of the religious people is left to the priests and preachers. The world system leaves them alone because it's profitable for them to do so. Religion usually keeps down the crime rate, which equals cost reductions. Sickness is less, infidelity is less and so on. As long as organized religion can do so, the Romans will leave them alone. The priesthood in Jesus' day knew that Jesus was the messiah that the people were waiting for. They chose control over the people and wealth instead of the kingdom of God. This is the Anti Christ. 666 yet unfulfilled; Control of each facet of life. Six is the number of man, seven is the number of perfection and eight is a new beginning. The original creation was complete as 777 until Adam chose to be his own god then it became 677. The rejection of Christ set the number as 667 as now religion was based on control, we now wait with baited breath as the world prepares for total control of the monetary system and thus 666. How close are we? The world has set the number (year) as 2012, it is now 2007. This puts my age at His coming at seventy and the life that God has given man. Less than five years to take total control of the earth. But in reality; man's life was given a value of days, hours, minutes, and seconds by the world system of things. Man spends his life earning a living from the system. This being true in most affluent nations shows that the system of total control is already here. Does the American dollar have value? No. No real value beyond what it can provide you with. It represents some unit value of your life. At one time it represented gold or silver but that value has long since been removed. The world has a universal unit of trade and that currently is the US dollar. Even the Euro is based on the dollar. The world already has a base unit of life. You cannot buy or sell without this unit of trade. This unit is a portion of your life. Man spends eight, ten, twelve or more hours a day to provide for his self and his family. These are units of life given to the system. It's called making a living not by accident. You are caught in the life of Adam. By the sweat of your brow Adam. Adam's choice=6. Religion's choice=6. What is your choice? Where are you Adam? Religion has taught you to look for the mark of the beast and his mark, which is 666. But it tells you that it will come in the near future. This keeps you from looking within. It tells you of some great event coming in the future when there will be a world ruler set in place and perhaps there will be a figurehead at some time given this position. Reality shows that this ruler came into being when Adam gave up the kingdom. Religion binds while Christianity frees. For one to exist in religion, they must meet certain requirements. Many of these requirements are brought forward from those used by the priesthood of Jesus' day. Clothing which separates the priesthood from the congregation, smoking sensors, symbolic rituals, exclusiveness of the priesthood, offerings, tithe, and so on. Later, Christ fulfills all this law and ordinances by death of a righteous sin free man; himself. Because he was without sin, death was not required of him. I do not mean to imply that a person that has lived without sin will not die. Christ was born of a woman but had a father called God. Man is of the earth and of Adam therefore because Adam sinned, death is born within us. The seed is passed from father to father, blood type, nature and so on. If Adam had not sinned, (moot point) then death would not reign. The only way a person can atone for sins is death. Christ did not remove this requirement. The law has to be fulfilled by your death.

Adam sinned and death reigned from Adam to Moses and the giving of the law. As man had chosen to be his own god and make decisions about right or wrong, God gave man His law and the choices that go with it. He sat in place priests, judges, lawyers, councils and prophets to guide man in his decisions. Along with this he gave man a way of righteousness. This righteousness was not without death. Death now must always precede righteousness. As Adam and Eve were given a covering of the skin of an animal so man must now kill an animal to cover his falling short. The tabernacle was build of the values of life as a creature of decision; Gold, silver, tapestries, beautiful wood, linen, and an ark of unparallel beauty. Each was hand fabricated requiring God given skill.

Adam and Eve began creation with two male children; Cain and Able. Cain was a tiller of the ground (farmer) while Able was a tender of the sheep. Look at this from a spiritual aspect because this is exactly what it is. Cain is a shadow of Lucifer as he was cast to earth and became an earth bound angel. Able represents Adam or the second man Adam and is spiritual. Cain offers up the product of earth while Able offers up a product of spiritual as the life of a lamb. The only way Cain can be in control is to kill Able and does so with a rock.

Cain was earth bound. All of his resources were of the earth. This also was the choice of Adam. Earthbound and of the earth, in the earth and always of the earth. Adam and Cain would forever be locked into the prison of earth.

(MOVED TO FURTHER DOWN)

Continuity seems to be a problem with my writing. I will write what is placed in my head and the truths that are found as they are discovered with no thought to continuity in this document. I write infrequently and I would have to read the whole document each time to insure continuity. So, from this point on, I am not going to be concerned with such.

My heart is inditing a good matter: I speak of the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

Rom 5:14 Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.

Cain and Able were sacrificing unto God Cain brought the fruit of the earth while Able sacrificed life. Cain brought an Adamic sacrifice of earth provision and Able brought the supplied sacrifice of God. The earth provided Cain's sacrifice while God provided Abel's. See the difference? Adam chose to seek his own provisions of the earth though he probably didn't realize what he was sacrificing. God let him know that his provision would come by the sweat of his brow instead of being directed and provided by God. Yes, I know that all is created by God; but the point here is decision and direction while the other point is honoring God. The sacrifices were not for salvation but honor as no sacrifice was yet established for salvation. The blood was a covering but only for their nakedness and unrighteousness and not salvation. Nakedness before God is a nakedness of soul and spirit and not flesh. You could say that Adam and Eve stood unclothed but not naked before the fruit event occurred. Moses brought the law and with the law salvation pushing ahead the sins until Christ. If the sacrifices of bulls and goats lambs and sheep would suffice as a sacrifice for sin then there would not have been a need for Christ's sacrifice on the cross by death and blood. So the sacrifices merely pushed the judgment for these sins forward until then. If this law had not been established before Moses then there was no sacrifice for the sins of mankind from Adam to Moses hence death reigned because the payment for sin is termination. Argue all you want, but what will you do with Romans 5:14 and if that isn't good enough for you try logic.

Tribute is the reason for Cain and Abel's sacrifice and tribute only.

I don't know but the events of Genesis are the primary reason for earth's population. God desires a people that will honor, trust, and know him.

1Ti 2:13 For Adam was first formed, then Eve.

1Ti 2:15 Notwithstanding she shall be saved in childbearing, if they continue in faith and charity and holiness with sobriety.

This looks like an index for the first few chapters of Genesis.

The main point for this conversation being the fourteenth verse concerning the deception.

Actually, it's the actual point for this conversation and writing.

It's amazing how an entire book, philosophy, world, universe be based on one event.

Without digressing much, look at John 3:16 For God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten son, and it becomes or is pivotal of the whole system. After the event in the Garden and the instructions given to Adam, all scripture looks toward John 3:16. After John 3:16 all scripture looks back at John 3:16.

Adam was given instruction from God concerning the fruit. Adam had given this instruction to Eve and the Serpent twisted the wording somewhat to change the meaning entirely casting doubt on the voracity of God's word. Enough doubt was placed in Eve's mind to experiment with the instruction to the point of actually sampling or eating the fruit. Hence the deception. Adam though being informed by God of the dangers of this experiment in the command not to partake of this tree, saw that Eve had not physically died. How he knew what that meant? Was the concept placed in Adam's mind? Puzzled over this visual evidence that death had not occurred, doubted that what God said was true and partook of the tree. Hence Adam was not deceived, made a rational choice. Life is continual spiritual existence. Had Adam not partook of the tree, would Adam and Eve still be alive today? Death reigned from Adam to Moses.

This is the way it happened.

Adam was created from the dust of the earth and God breathed in him the breath of life and Adam became a living soul. Eve was formed out of Adam. This is important to remember. Adam was formed from the dust of the earth but Eve was formed from Adam. This is important in understanding what Christ has created. Life was put into Adam when God inserted His breath.

The woman was formed from part of Adam and became the vessel of creation. Formed within her are organs, which create an egg containing viable material that will support creation. This egg lies lifeless within her, (monthly life cycles understood and accepted), until it is given the genes of the male. The carrier of these male genes is alive and actively seeks out this viable material called an egg. Through some mysterious process not understood, one and only one carrier of this life nature is allowed within the egg. This carrier is the seed of life and contains the DNA of the male to unite with the DNA of the female and form creation based upon both creatures. From this male there is a nature that Adam acquired when he exchanged the life nature given by God for the human nature given when he made the decision to choose his own way. Now he has become of the earth, on the earth, and later in the earth exclusively. And until the giving of the law there was no escape from this decision. This nature is transferred from father to the offspring and not from mother to daughter or son. The human nature comes from the male. This is important in understanding what happened at Christ's inception and what he has given to the Adamic race. This is all a study of genetics and is understood by cattlemen, shepherds, farmers, and so on. Many call this human nature, "The sin nature" which is an attitude that requires all to seek their own and often produces results called: adultery, fornication, impurity, flagrant sexual immorality, idolatry, witchcraft, hostilities, quarrels, jealous rivalries, angry outbursts, selfish ambitions, divisions, heretical sects, envies, murders, drunkenness, drunken orgies, and the such like. Understand that this is the result of sin and is not individually sin. Let me explain; Is adultery sin? You ask. Probably the reason that you even ask is sins. No, adultery is not sin but the decision that causes you to do it is sin. Adultery is a result of sin and if you go out and commit adultery, the moment that you even question the viability of such is sin. You have made the decision between right and wrong. The majority of people are moral individuals. I do not imply that all people are involved in this list of results but all people are Adamic in nature until death frees them from this nature. Of course, once death frees you from this nature that terminates your existence on earth. There is no reprieve from the death Adam introduced into this race of humans. To correct or change this Adamic nature you would need to go back to the beginning and produce a new Adam that does not have this nature. (There are some things and decisions in life that cannot be reversed and this is one of those life changing, race-changing decisions.) Now you could produce a spiritual race that does not have the old nature providing this new Adam does not make a decision to know right from wrong. The Spirit of God would lead this new creation and because the Spirit leads him he can create no wrong hence never knowing right from wrong. Since we are dealing in absolutes this concept is difficult to grasp. The implication is that this creation must become robotic. (The key here is the word lead.) Such a condition is not possible nor desirable because for man to properly be spirit controlled he must have the ability to decide. This robotic condition can only be obtained by artificial means such as medication and the choice is taken away from the individual so this becomes a moot point. It is necessary that this creation have the ability to decide.

Several points must be brought to the forefront here and they are that God being absolute cannot sin, cannot lie, and cannot be tempted. All that God speaks is truth. This is simplistic statement in that it implies that there is some restraint on God. That would defeat the title God if he were under restraint as there must be a force greater than God to restrain him. God cannot be tempted with sin because he is the one that is displeased (the definition of sin). And how can you tempt a force that is absolute? You may tempt God to destroy his creation but you cannot tempt him otherwise. Remember what was said in the beginning paragraphs of this writing? You must come out of your self to understand some portion of this concept of God. Actually, a review of this list will illustrate the expense of government. This expense is the result of the works listed. All the problems in society come from this list and nature. Each of these fulfillments of the fleshly desires feeds upon itself being self defeating and cannibalistic. Medical insurance, Link system, Life insurance, Property insurance, Social security, Income tax, wars, world relief, and the such like are a result of this list. Our entire judicial system is set in place to judge from the issues presenting the right or wrong of these acts. God is the judge but man makes judgment.

Why a choice between two options? A choice is necessary to determine actual loyalties. What was wrong with the choice prohibited? The choice to accept that option was the purpose of the two options. Had the choice of eternal life been made then the choice of the knowledge of good and evil. Every tree in the garden was good for food. Yet two choices grew in the middle of the garden both of good appearance and good for food. What kind of fruit grew on the tree of the knowledge of good and evil? Apple, Peach, pomegranate, fig, orange? The choice between trees was the issue and not the actual fruit. Once the choice was made it was irreversible. Once you have experienced an issue you cannot un experience it and go back to innocence. Impossible. If you commit murder you cannot un murder someone. If you say something that you didn't want to say, you cannot unsay it. There was no undoing what occurred and so it was with this issue. Innocence was lost forever. Their righteousness was gone. They stood unclothed by the righteousness of inexperience. No longer could they look on wrong with the inexperience of being able to judge. Any judgment from henceforth would be out of self-righteousness and not the righteousness of not knowing. People are self righteous for protection of themselves. One feels that by judging others it makes one more right the ones judged. The problem with self righteousness is that one hides behind the judgment to keep his wrongs from becoming apparent to himself. Others see his nakedness but he tells everyone he's not naked and becomes bitter when they don't accept his judgment of the situation or person(s).

So here stand two people that were perfect and in a perfect world that had made a decision to turn it upside down and had done so. Results? Death. Two deaths occurred to this couple. A spiritual death which caused a separation between them and the directing Spirit and later an actual physical death for the body and a returning to the earth from which they came. A great price to pay for the ability to judge between right and wrong. They became as god's able to create right and wrong in each situation. Before they would have received guidance in what ever they did and it would be right because of the absolute law spoken of earlier. If it is absolute there is nothing beyond it. It is. To say that God is good is an absolute. To say the word "god" is absolute according to Webster. To say that God cannot lie is an absolute. To say that God is truth is an absolute. To say that God is light is an absolute. Absolutely absolute.

They were covered (clothed) with righteousness. What is righteousness? From a description of how this couple were supposed to live, it can be derived that righteousness is "God led". Here then is the definition of God Led;
